English for Academic Purposes (EAP) Placement Test

All students for whom English is a second language are required to complete the EAP Placement Test. The scores you receive on the different parts of the placement test are used to place you into, or exempt you from, IUPUI ESL classes. If you are placed in any IUPUI ESL classes, you will be responsible for paying for these courses.

IUPUI Oral English Proficiency Examination (SPEAK test)

IUPUI has established the policy that all graduate students whose first language is not English and who are being considered for graduate assistantships must demonstrate adequate oral English proficiency before assignment to duties involving direct interaction with students. All ITAs (International Teaching Assistants) are required to have their oral proficiency certified with the Oral English Proficiency Examination as a condition of receiving their ITA appointment. ITAs with primary responsibility for teaching a class or laboratory section are required to have a score of ≥ 50.

Students who have inadequate English communication skills will be required to take the ITA training course (English G020) before being given a position that requires direct student contact. Students will be re-administered the examination at the end of the G020 class, and will need to achieve an appropriate score to be cleared to teach. If you are required to complete English G020, you will also need to pay for this three hour course.
